

105 Personal Relationships in the Workplace

Effective Date: 05/07/2018

The employment of relatives or persons involved in dating relationships in the same area of the organization may cause serious conflicts and problems with favoritism and employee morale. In addition, personal conflicts from outside the work environment can be carried into day-to-day working relationships.

We do not prohibit employing relatives of other employees, or persons involved in dating relationships with other employees. However, we monitor situations in which such individuals may work in the same area. Generally, relatives and persons involved in dating relationships will not be allowed to report to one another or otherwise work in a position that has control or influence over the other person's hiring, advancement, performance evaluation, discipline, or termination. In case of actual or potential problems, we will take prompt action. This can include reassignment or, if necessary, termination of employment for one or both of the individuals involved.

For the purposes of this policy, a relative is defined as a spouse, mother, father, sister, brother, children, grandparents, nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, and persons bearing the same relationship as the employee's spouse.
